The Outside View.

We envy other men who seem to have so much that gives them pride—

Ah, but there's milk beneath the cream,
There's mud below the limpid stream,
The house may have a rotten beam,
That looks so well outside.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

And Bed Time we advise everybody to take a dose of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It will strengthen and sweeten the stomach, restore the appetite and induce sound sleep. It has been doing this for over fifty years and is just as good today. Take the hint and try a bottle. It cures Headache, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Cramps, Diarrhoea or Malaria, Fever and Ague. Our Private Stamp is over the neck of bottle.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

BITTEN BY CENTIPEDE WHILE SLEEPING

C. E. McKee, a linotype operator on the Evening Citizen, was bitten last night by a centipede while he was enjoying his night's rest. The varmint inflicted a bad wound on McKee's right forearm, and the prompt services of a physician, who was summoned by telephone, is all that prevented what might have resulted in a serious wound.

Mr. McKee looked all about the bedroom and bed for the centipede, but was unable to find any trace of it. The nature of the wound indicates that it was of unusual size and the arm is badly swollen as a result of the bite.
